

Modern Haiku compiled—1981 to 2015

skylight
the floor buffer
dizzies the moon

Vol. 46.2, Summer 2015

the possum suffers
one indignity after another dead on the road

Vol. 43.3, Autumn 2012

deathrow lightly snoring

Vol. XXI, No. 1, Winter-Spring 1990

the workman rests
a leisurely
fart

Vol. XX, No. 1, Winter-Spring 1989

firefly
a child's voice

firefly

and

the full cabbage head
drips cold dew
on the cricket's song

Vol. XIV, No. 2, Summer 1983

where the sick crow stood guarding some bones
last night's snow

and

white mums
making light
of the moon

Vol. XIV, No. 1, Winter-Spring 1983

in the blanched moon
the bayonet dummy's feet
soak with dew

Vol. XIII, No. 2, Summer 1982

All Souls' Day
in the twilit field
cranes are crying

Vol. XIII, No. 1, Winter-Spring 1982

quarreling neighbors
the lot-line grass
turns brown

Vol. XII, No. 3, Autumn 1981

Spring moon
rearranging
the rock garden

Vol. XII, No. 2, Summer 1981

Beneath our hands
their hair recalls the autumn:
the zoo deer

Vol. XII, No. 1, Winter-Spring 1981